MATTHEW DAVID PATULLOCK

Principal Urban Designer – Niche Planning Studio

Bachelor of Applied Science, Planning (Urban Design) – RMIT, 2005

SUMMARY

Matthew is an Urban Designer with over eleven years of experience working in State Government, Local Government and private consultancies throughout Victoria, Western Australia and New South Wales in Urban Design, Town Planning and Landscape Architecture.

His expertise in master planning large and small scale projects, subdivision design, transit orientated design (TOD) and town centre revitalisation has enabled him to maximise sustainable outcomes while ensuring best practice design methodology. His pride in developing tangible solutions is illustrated through his ability to showcase high quality urban design outcomes in both 2D plans and high quality 3D representation for projects of varied scale and complexity.

Matthew prides himself on the promotion of designing as a member of a team, utilising the skills of others around him to compliment his own developed skills set to complete well thought out Urban Design outcomes for all clients. He has a commercial reality that is well balanced with his knowledge of government requirements.

Included in his past and current portfolio of projects are urban infill development guidelines and development plans, water wise developments, large scale master planned communities and detailed landscape design plans within metropolitan Perth, Melbourne and Sydney, as well as regional Western Australia, South Australia and Victoria.
